Applicants selected under this program pay a tuition rate 50% above the in-state tuition. The main eligibility requirement is that the program of study not be offered in a state college or university of the student's state of residence. During the 2009-2010 academic year, residents from Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont are eligible for reduced tuition rates for the following Framingham State College degree programs: Connecticut Fashion Design and Retailing Food Science Health/Family and Consumer Sciences Education Maine Communication Arts Consumer and Family Studies Fashion Design and Retailing Health/ Family and Consumer Sciences Education New Hampshire Fashion Design and Retailing Food Science Health/ Family and Consumer Sciences Education Rhode Island Business and Information Technology Communication Arts Food Science Health/Family and Consumer Sciences Education Vermont Fashion Design and Retailing Food and Nutrition Note: Students planning on enrolling in the Health/Family and Consumer Sciences Education program should apply to the Consumer and Family Studies major and indicate their specific interest in the program. For additional information, contact the New England Board of Higher Education, 45 Temple Place, Boston, MA 02111 or call 617-357-9620. Monthly Payment Plan through Tuition Management Systems The "Monthly Payment Plan" offered through Tuition Management Systems enables day division students to budget all or part of the Student Bill without interest. The Plan may be used in conjunction with all forms of financial aid such as grants, loans, and scholarships. Monthly payments must be made to TMS by the first of each month. You may participate in the Plan by budgeting costs from June 1 to October 1 for the fall term, and from November 1 to March 1 for the spring term. You may also budget for a single term. You must enroll and make your first payment prior to the due date of the Student Bill. In addition, you must make the appropriate adjustment on the reverse side of your Student Bill, and return the top portion to the Student Accounts Office by the due date of the Bill. This will inform the College of your enrollment in the "Monthly Payment Plan" and the budgeted amount. The "Monthly Payment Plan" is available for a small enrollment fee and includes personal account service, automated account information 24 hours a day and access to your account through their web site, www.afford.com, and even gives you a chance to win a Tuition Management Systems Scholarships.
