In previous years, delegation was given to the Finance Committee to approve the upcoming year’s Trust Fund Budget and Fees in the summer. This year the Finance Committee will be asking the Board to vote on the approval of the FY 2024 Trust Fund Budgets and Fees based on conservative assumptions made for the budget, along with a general idea of State funding, and an assumption that reserve funds, in the amount of $2.5M, will be used.

Dale Hamel took the opportunity to thank those that were involved with the budget development process including Jeanne Deree, other members of the Business Office, and trust fund managers. He added that the FY 2024 Budget Request document is available for review on Board of Trustees materials portal.

Dale Hamel continued, providing the following information:

A. Administration, Finance, and Information Technology Report
   • State Funding reviewed, page 61 (3b)
     o Aggregate Fair Share Funding Allocations:
       ▪ Governor’s, House, and Senate Ways and Means Budget proposals were reviewed.
         • In the Governor’s budget allocations (a third to each) were made for transportation, higher education, and K–12. A significant amount was allocated to financial aid and additional base funding and grant support.
         • The House budget roughly split allocation to transportation and education (K–12 and Higher Education).
           o $174M allocated to higher education: $154M in student aid, $20M for the Endowment Incentive Program.
           o $9.8M for State University’s Performance Funding Program: 2.9% increase to the base budget for Framingham State University.
           o Funding for anticipated cost of collective bargaining contracts: $2.1M; Executive Office of Administration and Finance (ANF) Reserve of 6%.
       • Senate Ways and Means Budget allocated funding for Transportation and Education (K–12 and Higher Education).
         o In addition to allocated funding for Performance Funding and Collective Bargaining, $50M was allocated in student support programs.
         o $125M for capital projects; Division of Capital Asset Management and Maintenance (DCAMM) for deferred maintenance.
   • “All Funds” Budget Key Parameters
     o State appropriations $37.1M current FY2024 level of appropriations, $9.8M to the State University segment of performance funding; supplemental funding once contracts have been ratified, page 72
     o Assumption of student revenue is $23.8M, a decline of 6.3%, page 75 ▪ Increase in tuition and fees, residence halls, and dining fee were outlined: a comprehensive undergraduate increase in costs (tuition/fees, room, and board) of $720, or 2.9%.
       o DGCE rate increase of $30, 1.8% increase.

*A digital copy may also be obtained by request.
Staffing levels: faculty positions show a decline of less than 1%; net increase of staff positions of 4.5%.

Reserve funds of approximately $2.5M will be utilized.

- Review of FY2024 All Funds Budget – Trust Fund Net Income Detail, page 78
- College operating budget includes revenues and expenditures by trust funds.
  - Trust funds with deficits are highlighted in red: $1.9M, College Operations; $1.234M, Residence Life; $336,000, Continuing Education; $164,000, Academic Support; $17,000, Arts and Ideas
  - Capital projects plan (highlighted in blue) display an $8M expenditure, page 79
  - Financial Aid (highlighted in green), page 79
    - $38M in Financial Aid; the percentage for grant aid has increased.

Trustee Lino Covarrubias asked Dale Hamel how confident he was that the state appropriations funding would be obtained as outlined in his presentation, and what percent the $2.5M is of the total funds in reserves.

- Dale Hamel responded that he was very confident for the performance funding. The collective bargaining funding will be determined by the contracts. The funding will be required to ratify the first year.
- Investment analysis identifies liquidity funds, contingency funds, and core investment funds; liquidity funds are required to operate, but the contingency and core investment funds, a total approximately $80M; so, $2.5M is approximately 3% of reserve balances.
  - Too much of a reduction of the $80M would impact the interest gained and would not benefit the University in the outyears, as a percentage of the gains (actually a percent of rolling-three-year fund balances) are applied to the operating budget.

Dale Hamel continued his report with the following:

- Five-year Summary, page 81
  - Details a deficit in FY24, smaller deficit in FY25, and balanced budget in FY26.

In conclusion, Trustee Hubbard noted the following:

- Capital projects expenses are primarily covered by state funding.
- After two years of no increases to tuition or fees, the proposed increases are in line with those previously made.
- The annual cost for an education at Framingham State University is $37,000 per student; the actual average cost for the student with state appropriation and financial aid is less than $4,000 per year, page 79

Trustee Hubbard added that in FY 2024, the amount of aid offered to the students is higher in grant funding than in student loans.
