The Office of Financial Aid at Framingham State University helps students and their families meet the costs of a college education. Our mission is to make a high-quality education possible for students who earn admission to the University.

Framingham State University participates in a wide variety of federal, state, and private financial aid programs. This document explains how to apply for financial aid.

Please read this carefully before applying for aid, and do not hesitate to contact the Office of Financial Aid if you have any questions.

We look forward to helping you make your college dreams a reality!

DETERMINING ELIGIBILITY

Framingham State University follows U.S. Department of Education guidelines in administering financial aid programs. The basic principle behind financial aid is that the students and their families have the primary responsibility for meeting as much of the cost of attending college as is reasonably possible. Financial aid is a supplement to family resources if family resources are insufficient to meet college costs.

Three components determine eligibility for financial aid: cost of attendance, family contribution, and financial need. Stated simply, cost of attendance minus expected family contribution equals financial need.

The Office of Financial Aid determines the "cost of attendance budget." Standard average budgets are used for students based on where they will be living during the academic year. Please note that the laptop computers required for students in the Day Division are included in the budget. The "expected family contribution" is based on the information supplied on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and other documents that are submitted to the Office of Financial Aid. The family contribution is calculated using the U.S. Department of Education guidelines and a process called "need analysis."

This process takes into account components such as:

1. Family Income
2. Number of family members
3. Number of family members (excluding parents) attending college on at least a half-time basis
4. Family assets (not including the primary residence)
5. Essential family living costs

GENERAL ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for federal and state financial aid at Framingham State University, an applicant must be a U.S. citizen (or eligible non-citizen) and be enrolled (or accepted for enrollment) in a degree program at Framingham State University. Additionally, the applicant must:

1. Submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)
2. Provide all requested documents to the Office of Financial Aid
3. Maintain satisfactory academic progress toward a degree
4. Be in compliance with the Selective Service Law (if male)
5. Not be in default of any educational loans or owe a refund of any federal grants to any institution

IMPORTANT DEADLINES

MARCH 1, 2015. You must file the FAFSA by this date in order to meet the priority filing deadline and to receive your award letter on time. All funds are given on a first come first serve basis. Applicants should not delay filing the FAFSA while awaiting an admissions decision. Files completed after the deadline are subject to available funding.

To complete your financial aid file:

1. File a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or a renewal FAFSA as soon after January 1, 2015, as possible (even if you have to estimate your income because your taxes aren’t completed.) You should file the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.gov. (Note: The Framingham State University Title IV school code is 002185.)
2. Additional documents may be required for students who are selected for verification by the federal government. These documents may include signed parent and student 2014 official IRS tax return transcripts, a verification worksheet and other documents.

FINANCIAL AID AWARDS

Once your financial need is determined, a financial aid package is prepared. The package may be a combination of grant, work, and/or loan programs.

The amount of financial aid awarded depends on the date your financial aid file is completed, your financial need, the number of eligible applicants, and the availability of funds.

After your file is complete, a Financial Aid Award Letter will be mailed to you. Please sign the award letter and return it to the Financial Aid Office by May 1 (for fall applicants), January 1 (for spring applicants), or within two weeks of the date on the award letter if later. Award letters returned after the deadline are subject to cancellation.

It is the responsibility of the student to notify the Office of Financial Aid of all financial assistance received from other sources. Types of assistance that must be reported include: private scholarships, John and Abigail Adams Scholarship, tuition waivers, veterans’ benefits, Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission assistance, etc.

All forms of outside assistance must be taken into account in the financial aid package. Outside assistance received after the Office of Financial Aid has awarded aid may cause the financial aid package to be adjusted. If an adjustment is necessary, the award will be recalculated as if the outside assistance were known prior to awarding.
