Be Like Water (就像水一样): Inside Stories from Fulbright Scholars in China

Shin Freedman
Library
Framingham State University

Shin, a Fulbright Scholar to China, examines how she balanced her teaching responsibilities with students, time with fellow Chinese colleagues, and cultural expectations in daily life in China. She analyzes and reflects her expectations against her actual experiences to offer insights for scholars, higher education administrators and students of study abroad programming. Her 2019 book, Narrative Inquiries from Fulbright Lecturers in China: Cross-Cultural Connections to Higher Education, is a roadmap for negotiating China's higher education network and cross-cultural educational environment.
