LIVE TO THE TRUTH

Your college journey begins with a goal: a fulfilling career, financial stability, and more choices for the future. It's also about finding your place – forming connections, friendships, and a community that supports you as you move forward.

At Framingham State University, Live to the Truth means learning how to ask questions, build confidence, and grow into your goals over time. It means understanding that education isn't about where you begin – it's about who you become, and the support that helps you get there.

Here, you'll find professors who know your name, classmates who share your determination, and a community that understands you may be balancing school with work, family, and other responsibilities.

You will learn to analyze real-world problems, make sense of complex issues, and gain the courage to stand by your values – even when the world is complicated. Because in an age of misinformation and blurred lines, truth demands courage, curiosity, and compassion.

THIS IS FRAMINGHAM STATE.

ARE YOU READY TO LIVE TO THE TRUTH?

LIVE TO THE TRUTH

Our founding motto, nearly two centuries old, but today, more relevant than ever.

THE FRAMINGHAM STATE TUITION PROMISE

We believe every student deserves access to an outstanding education, regardless of their income level. The Framingham State Tuition Promise guarantees that full-time undergraduate students who are permanent Massachusetts residents and whose family income is under $85,000 pay $0 in tuition and fees after applying their financial aid grants. This does not include expenses like housing and meals, but additional financial aid is available for those who qualify.

Learn more about Costs and Financial Aid on Page 21 or online.

TRUTH IN ACTION

I chose Framingham State because I wanted a place where I could truly belong and pursue my goals without losing sight of who I am. Coming here as a Brazilian student, affordability mattered – but what mattered even more was a community that values diversity and support. At FSU, I've worked alongside faculty on real research, learned ethical practices firsthand, and built confidence in my path toward a clinical PhD. ”

Bianca Furtado

TRUTH IS BELONGING

Join our community, built through shared experiences, meaningful relationships, and a location that opens doors beyond campus.

Belonging doesn't happen by accident. It's built intentionally.

At Framingham State, you will find connection in classrooms, residence halls, student organizations and groups designed to support identity and community. And because we are rooted in a diverse and vibrant region just outside Boston, you will be part of a broader community that reflects the world you will lead.

YOU BELONG HERE.
EVERYONE DOES.

A FIRST-GEN FORWARD INSTITUTION

More than 60% of incoming Framingham State students are the first in their family to attend a 4-year college. FSU is designed to support this population and make sure you have the resources you need to be successful.

HOME TEAM, MEET CAMPUS TEAM

Our Office of Family Engagement serves your personal supporters, whether parents, relatives, friends, community members, or others.

Your support system doesn't stop at the edge of campus – it grows. At Framingham State, families stay connected through resources, communication, and events, while students gain the independence to thrive on their own. It's a partnership that supports success from day one through graduation.

A NETWORK THAT EXTENDS BEYOND GRADUATION

You will have access to our regional and global network of alumni professionals working in education, healthcare, the arts, science, business, and so many other fields. They'll tell you how FSU helped them prepare to launch their careers – and how proud they are to still be a part of the community today.

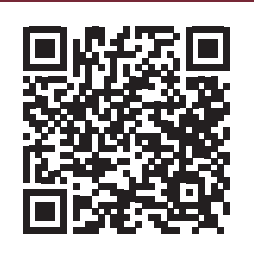

FINDING YOUR COMMUNITY

From your first class to your first club meeting, you'll find connection in the people around you – classmates, professors, teammates, and mentors who help you feel at home.

FAMILY PORTAL

Framingham State's Family Experience Portal enables your family members and supporters to stay connected with the University throughout your time at FSU!

For many of us, there was a feeling of imposter syndrome when we arrived at college. I remember thinking 'Do I belong here, and can I really do this?' Framingham State was the right size, with the right resources to help me find my identity as a student and a leader.”

What I love most about teaching here is the fact that I can connect on an individual basis with each of my students. In the classroom, I empower them to become historians in their own right – to think critically about the past and build their own interpretations.”

TRUTH EVOLVES — SO DO YOU

Whether you arrive with a major in mind or are still exploring, it's just the first step of your academic journey at FSU.

SPECIALIZE

Your major is where your interests take shape and your future comes into focus.

You'll work closely with faculty, complete internships, research, or clinical experiences, and build real expertise in your field. This is where confidence grows and career paths take form.

By the time you graduate, you won't just have studied a subject, you'll be prepared to apply it in the real world.

DISCOVER

Your education isn't only about your major.

Elective courses expand your interests beyond your major. They also give you the chance to add a minor or combine disciplines. A Psychology major might explore Criminology. A Biology student might study Ethics. A Business student might take Environmental Sociology.

Discovery isn't a detour – it's how you refine your goals, discover new interests, and build a skill set that's uniquely yours.

EXPLORE

Some of the most meaningful learning happens when you step back and see the bigger picture.

You will connect courses outside your major around big ideas like climate change, public health, equity, and globalization. Along the way, you'll build practical skills – from financial literacy to professional communication – that prepare you not just for a career, but for life.

Your education at Framingham State isn't just one decision. It's a journey that grows with you, and becomes distinctly yours.

Aili Schiavoni combined two of her interests by majoring in Fashion Design and minoring in Theatre Studies. She is also President of the Student Fashion Club and passionate about sustainability.

Aili Schiavoni

I battled anxiety about going to college and even considered not going at all, but I couldn't have found a better environment than at FSU. The small class sizes create such an incredible community. There's something really special about building bonds with other designers in an atmosphere that isn't cutthroat.

The faculty here are so knowledgeable in their fields and supportive of students. There is a big push among young designers to think about the environmental impact of what we do and make it a priority. I'm so proud to be part of the fashion community we have on campus, which cares deeply about this issue.”

DID YOU KNOW

Framingham State has been named a Green College by the Princeton Review every year since 2010.

TRUTH IS PUTTING LEARNING INTO ACTION

College is where your interests start turning into direction. Through internships, career preparation, student clubs and global experiences, Framingham State helps you connect what you're learning in the classroom to the world beyond campus.

CAREERS

PREPARE FOR WHAT COMES NEXT

Your career journey starts earlier than you might think.

You'll have access to career advisors who help you explore possibilities, build a résumé, prepare for interviews, and connect with alumni and employers. You'll have opportunities to form or join student clubs with classmates in your discipline to host speaking and networking events. Along the way, you'll develop the communication, time management, team work, leadership, and problem-solving skills employers look for in every field.

By the time you graduate, you won't just have a degree, you'll have a plan for what comes next and a team within the Career Development Office committed to supporting you long after graduation.

INTERNSHIPS

REAL-WORLD EXPERIENCE

Internships help turn classroom learning into practical experience.

You will have the opportunity to gain hands-on experience with organizations across the region, including companies like Bose, Fidelity, New Balance, Staples, and TJX, as well as schools, hospitals, government agencies, and nonprofits. Many internships offer stipends or financial support, helping ensure you can take advantage of these opportunities while gaining valuable experience in your field.

And for some, like Accounting Graduate Gerald Fernandez, your internship can lead to a job offer prior to graduation. That was his experience following a summer internship at Amazon HQ in Seattle, where he now works full-time as a Financial Analyst.

CENTERS & INSTITUTES

Framingham State's centers and institutes create opportunities to explore your interests outside the classroom.

At the Danforth Art Museum, students connect with contemporary art through exhibitions, internships, and creative programs. The Christa McAuliffe Center brings science and space exploration to life, with immersive programs where students often serve as mentors and interns.

Other on-campus centers include:

- The John Stalker Institute of Food & Nutrition
- The Entrepreneur Innovation Center
- The Centers for Early Childhood Education
- The MetroWest Economic Research Center (MERC)

These spaces offer hands-on learning experiences that enrich your education on campus.

STUDY ABROAD

EXPAND YOUR PERSPECTIVE

Studying abroad gives you the chance to experience the world as part of your education.

FSU offers more than 100 study abroad opportunities in locations across Europe, Australia, and beyond. Programs are designed to fit into your academic plan so you can earn credit toward your degree while exploring new cultures and perspectives.

And because financial aid often applies, studying abroad can be more accessible than you may expect.

“

Through the help of my advisor and department chair, along with guidance from the study abroad office, I was able to complete a semester in London while graduating on time. I am a firm believer that studying abroad will change your life and will open doors you never knew existed.”

TRUTH IS EQUITY IN ACTION

Education should expand opportunity – for you and for the communities you’re part of.

CENTER FOR INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE

The Center for Inclusive Excellence supports all students through cultural programming, identity-based resources, leadership development, and spaces designed for connection and dialogue. It’s a center for belonging and for growth.

EQUITY IN THE CLASSROOM

At Framingham State, conversations about equity, justice and access are woven into coursework across disciplines – from education and healthcare to business, science, and the humanities. You will examine real-world challenges and explore how policy, history, and innovation shape opportunity.

CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

Through service-learning courses, community partnerships, voter engagement initiatives, and programs like Alternative Spring Break, you will connect what you study to real impact locally and globally.

Center for Inclusive

Living to the truth means creating a space where every student feels comfortable bringing their full self to the table. The Center for Inclusive Excellence is here for everyone – a place to connect, learn from different perspectives, and build a community where every voice matters.”

Jerome Burke
Director of the Center for Inclusive Excellence

TRUTH IS CARING FOR YOUR WHOLE SELF

You learn, grow, and thrive when you feel safe, supported, and valued.

MENTAL & EMOTIONAL WELLBEING

Our Health, Counseling, and Wellness Center is your go-to resource for medical and mental health support. Our board-certified nurse practitioners will help you feel your best, while our college-specialized mental health counselors provide a confidential, judgment-free space to manage stress, build healthy coping strategies, and adjust to your new home away from home. We believe your well-being is essential to your success, in and out of the classroom.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Whether you need one-on-one time with professional or peer tutors, an academic coach to help you crush your goals, or Disability and Access Services to coordinate specific accommodations, our Center for Academic Success and Achievement (CASA) will help you feel confident and capable.

MOVEMENT IS MEDICINE

You can clear your head and stay active at the Athletic and Recreation Center, which features a weight room, cardio equipment, and diverse intramural and group fitness programs ranging from indoor soccer to yoga classes.

SAFETY MATTERS

While you focus on your goals, the University Police work 24/7 to keep our community secure, offering safety escorts after dark and maintaining a network of Code Blue emergency phones throughout the campus. You'll often spot our comfort K9, Ramsey, and his ever-wagging tail offering a calming presence alongside our officers, too.

SUPPORTING STUDENT VETERANS

Framingham State is proud to support more than 200 student veterans from every branch of the U.S. military. Our Veterans Services Center helps veterans navigate and maximize their education benefits while connecting them to campus resources, and a strong community of fellow veterans.

ROUNDING OUT YOUR SUPPORT

We've got your back, inside the classroom and out. The Rams Resource Center provides free non-perishable food items, toiletries, and even headshots and clothing for interviews, in case you need a little extra help.

DINING TOGETHER

Meals bring the campus community together. Grab breakfast before class, meet friends for lunch, or recharge over dinner after a busy day.

There are fresh options for every appetite, including vegetarian, vegan, and allergy-conscious meals. Have specific dietary needs? You can work directly with a campus nutritionist to ensure you have safe, nutritious choices every day.

TRUTH IS THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

Live, learn, and connect on our close-knit campus, with easy access to everything Framingham and Boston have to offer.

LIVING ON CAMPUS

Our residence halls range from traditional New England-style buildings to modern high-rise communities. Each offers high-speed Wi-Fi, shared kitchens, FREE laundry facilities, study spaces, and common areas where friendships form quickly.

Residence life staff are always nearby to help you adjust to college life, plan programs, and create a community where everyone feels at home.

COMMUTER FRIENDLY

Not living on campus? You'll still feel connected. Commuter lounges, lockers, and student organizations help make campus your space between classes – and a place where you can stay involved long after the day's classes end.

Our location makes commuting easy with convenient access to the MBTA Commuter Rail, MetroWest Regional Transit, the Ram Tram campus shuttle, and on-campus parking.

BOSTON + BEYOND

A Safe Campus Connected to the City

FSU gives you the best of both worlds: a welcoming and safe campus community with easy access to one of the most dynamic cities in the country.

Just 20 miles west of Boston — and accessible by public transportation — you will have opportunities to explore world-class museums, historic landmarks, concerts, restaurants, and professional sports.

The region also offers internships, cultural experiences, and outdoor adventures throughout MetroWest and New England.

RAM NATION

As a student athlete, you will be part of a team built on dedication, teamwork, and the drive to improve everyday – values that carry far beyond the game.

Whether you're competing at the varsity level, through intramurals, or cheering from the stands, athletics are an important part of campus life. Student-athletes balance rigorous academics with competition while building friendships, leadership skills, teamwork, and a strong sense of pride in the Ram community.

Natalie Reynolds

“I had two priorities in my college search – a university that felt like home and the opportunity to continue growing as a volleyball player. Framingham State had everything. A great marketing program, a small and welcoming community, and such a pretty campus. It was exactly what I was looking for.

It was so exciting to help the team win the conference championship my freshman year. My best friends are my teammates, everyone is so close. I feel very lucky to be a part of it.”
